

MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY

-----ANNOUNCEMENT-----

Michigan State University Department of Anthropology encourages medical anthropologists and others to apply for College of Social Science (CSS) Ph.D. Research Associate positions. The CSS and the department seek Research Associates that will participate in a CSS Dean's Research Associate Development Institute, with the goal of possibly transitioning into tenure-system positions at Michigan State University. The Dean's Research Associate Program was established in 2018, as a major College initiative aimed at promoting an inclusive scholarly environment in which outstanding scholars in the social sciences support the advancement of diversity, equity, and inclusion in the academy. The Dean's Research Associates will have a minimal teaching load, will be mentored and supported, and will participate in a CSS Dean's Research Associate Development Institute, with the goal of possibly transitioning them into tenure-system positions at Michigan State University. Michigan State University is a R1 institution and applicants with a demonstrated record of peer reviewed publication and competitive funding for research are preferred; an active research program is required. A Ph.D. is required by September 2020, and no earlier than May 2017. Area of specialization is open, but we are in particular need of medical anthropology faculty members. Women, minorities, and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply. For more information and to apply visit <http://careers.msu.edu> and reference job posting #585595. Review of applications begins August 28, 2019. Questions regarding this position can be addressed to the Department of Anthropology Chair, Dr. Jodie O'Gorman, ogorman@msu.edu or Dr. Nwando Achebe, Faculty Excellence Advocate, College of Social Science (achebe@msu.edu). Michigan State University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer.
